

Do They Think of Me At Home?

J. E. Carpenter

CHARLES W. GLOVER (1797-1868)
CIRC. 1851

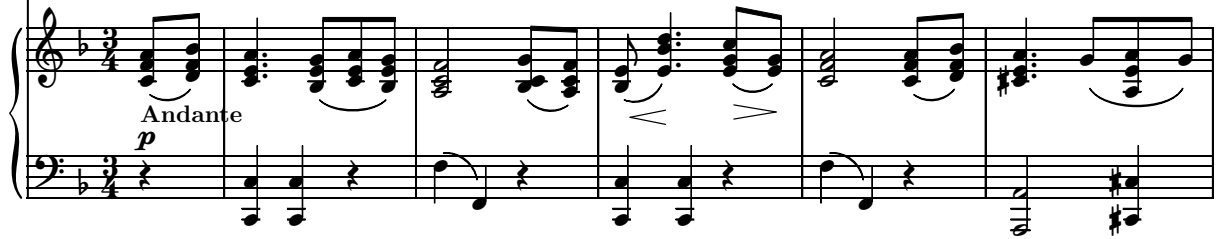

Voice and Piano

Andante With feeling

p

1. Do they think of me at home, Do they ev - er think of me? I who shared their ev - 'ry
 2. Do they think of me at eve, Of the song I used to sing? Is the harp I struck un - 3. Do they think of how I loved, In my hap - py, ear - ly days? Do they think of him who grief, I who min - gled in their glee? Have their hearts grown cold and strange, To the touch'd, Does a stran - ger wake the string? Will no kind for - giv - ing word, Come a - came, But could nev - er win their praise? I am hap - py by his side, And from one now doom'd to roam? I would give the world to know Do they think of me at cross the rag - ing foam? Shall I nev - er cease to sigh "Do they think of me at mine he'll nev - er roam. But my heart will sad - ly ask, "Do they think of me at home? I would give the world to know Do they think of me at home?

16 mf

 home?" Shall I nev - er cease to sigh "Do they think of me at home?"
 home?" But my heart will sad - ly ask, "Do they think of me at home?"

mf